(20 points)

We are all aware of the fact that dogs are man's best friend. Did you know that having a dog can actually make you healthier?

Recent studies have proved that pet owners get ill less often than those who do not. "Aren't dogs very dirty?" you may be asking. And the answer is yes. And this is why people near them do not get as sick. Being around a dog makes them stronger so that colds and flu do not affect them as much.

Dog owners also tend to walk more, so they are in better shape. Having a dog also helps people be more social as it is easy for dog lovers to talk to each other. Dogs also reduce stress. Scientists say that contact with dogs makes us happier and less tense. As a result, dog owners live longer.

Another very important use of dogs is for rescue missions and for police work. In many cases, dogs are far more useful than humans. This is because they are smaller than humans. They can reach places that a person is too large to have access to. For example after an earthquake or fire. Also they can run faster than humans. The average German Shepherd can run about 30 miles an hour, which is three times faster than an average person. This makes them especially useful when chasing a criminal who is trying to escape on foot.

Additionally, everyone knows how well dogs can smell, but you may not know how many lives have been saved because of this amazing ability. For example in 2015 in India, a sniffer dog found a bomb tied to a train track. Hundreds of passengers would have been killed if the dog had not found the explosives.

INTERESTING SUBJECTS AROUND THE WORLD

Hi! I'm Olivia. I'm 14 years old and I'm a pupil at a school in Murcia a small city in the east of Spain. My school has excellent teachers and a friendly atmosphere. We don't only do usual subjects at school like Maths, Science or Art. We also learn other important life lessons, like how to cook. Cooking is my favourite lesson because we learn how to make different dishes from all around the world and find out more about healthy eating. This way I can learn how to take care of myself when I grow up and leave home.

Olivia , age 14, Spain

Wow! Your school sounds amazing! My school is a beautiful old building in the center of Copenhagen and almost half my classmates come from foreign countries. We don't have cooking lessons at my school but we have interesting subjects. For example, my favourite subject is filmmaking. We find out what directors, cameramen, actors and script writers do. It's exciting!

Felix, age 15, Denmark

In our school we take part in a lot of interesting projects and do our best to save rare plants and animals. After school or at the weekends we plant trees and flowers around our town feed the animals in the local zoo. When I finish my studies I want to help solve the planet's environmental problems!
